With John and June on holiday yet again it falls to me to volunteer (?) for this issue. I have tried a different format, if you notice, with the events listed over the page, so please let John have feedback – while the cats away.....!

Weekend 29,30 August Pembroke Sea Cliffs This year it moves from its May Day slot to August Bank Holiday. The aim is to arrive Friday night (28th) and stay until Monday/Tuesday or longer (as in our case). We will be camping, probably at Buttylands. For the Pemboke devotees, this will be a time for sampling the usually bird banned cliffs. For the new club members Pembroke is probably the premier trad climbing venue in the UK with a unique atmosphere, whether walking or climbing. Those climbing in the lower grades can still enjoy a weekend down there since we can arrange for something for all to do. All you need is a tent, a sleeping bag, a harness and some determination to have a good time. Expressions of interest welcomed at this stage.
